

CREATIVE CAREERS SURVEY

Collaboration between Ringling College of Art and Design and Sarasota School-Arts & Science

PART A

1. When you have a group project for class, you

- a. grudgingly join the group, knowing as a fact that you can do this better on your own.
- b. ask what job you should do, and make sure you just do your part
- c. actively discuss with the group even though you're not leader.
- d. automatically become the secretary and write everything down. This way, the group has a plan and everybody knows what they have to do.
- e. Immediately jump to be leader

2. It's Friday night. You want to:

- a. stay at home. Relax. Watch some TV or play a video game.
- b. go out for dinner with parents, watch a movie with your best friend, and hit the party afterwards.
- c. PARTY! WHOOO HOOOO! All the way.
- d. make a fool-proof plan to coerce your parents into getting you a car. You'd re-search the price, insurance, payment plan, etc.
- e. You host a party.

3. (Into the future) It's Prom night. You

- a. can't go though... because you're on the plane to backpack across Europe by yourself!
- b. and your date have two Proms to go to! You, therefore, eat dinner at Prom #1 because they have a 5-star dinner plate, and dance at Prom #2 because Chris Brown is coming.
- c. go with your group of friends, of course!
- d. have it all planned out. You've rented a limo, have fun at prom, and go to Sonic afterwards for ice cream!
- e. are the most popular kid in town. You know you'll be prom queen/ king so you have your speech all ready.

4. The earth has been attacked by zombies. You have to transport the only antivirus that can turn all these #### zombies back to humans to the secret laboratory.

- a. You go alone because you don't want anybody getting hurt because of you. Besides, no one can keep up with you.
- b. You do whatever you have to do to get to that laboratory. It doesn't matter if you're alone or in a bus with a bunch of old people.
- c. You try to collect human survivors on the way. It's easier to fight zombies as a team than alone.
- d. You've figured out the way to transport the cure to the laboratory without ever having to leave your apartment. Zombies can't make remote controlled airplanes into zombies!
- e. You hire a bunch of mercenaries to transport your cure to the laboratory. They're much more trained, and you're too valuable to lose.

5. You open your locker and see

- a. a mess! Thank God you don't share your locker with anyone else!
- b. sections for different classes. This way, you can quickly get to one class to another without having to "look" for your books and other things.
- c. A picture of your soccer team, your script for the fall musical, and cupcakes for the "Raise money for school mascot".
- d. iPhones, video games, and other gadgets that you sell for a cheaper price because you've got connections.
- e. a neat, organized locker with a badge that says, "Student Body President".

6. You've just received your grades, and your neighbor totally bombed!

- a. Who cares? As long as I'm getting an "A", I don't care what others get.
- b. You "comfort" him and ask him why he got that grade. You make a mental note so you don't do the same thing he did.
- c. You invite her to your weekly study group.
- d. You ask to see the test, tally up the points yourself, and realize that one question that was marked wrong is right! You inform the teacher, even though it doesn't really change the letter grade, because you know that it may (later on) be the difference between a "B-" and a "C+".
- e. Give the neighbor encouraging words for next time.

7. If a CIA agent hacked into your computer, she will find...

- a. weird images that might scare them but are inspirations for your next masterpiece.
- b. photoshop files of the banner for the next school event
- c. AIM, facebook, and group pictures.
- d. list of things you want to do before you graduate, as well as stock market charts.
- e. all school events, parties, speeches, and a "how to hypnotize your parents" .PDF file.

8. The school is split between wearing uniforms and not. You

- a. fight against it! You won't become institutionalized!
- b. rather not, but you'll bargain. If you can get free dress days on every Fridays, you would be satisfied. Besides, you can always dress up your shoes or backpack.
- c. secretly are kind of relieved. You don't have to worry about what to wear every morning!
- d. down-right love uniforms! It keeps everybody from separating into different cliques. We'll be more open this way!
- e. Personally, you don't care. You're just there at the rally because you want to keep the arguments civilized. You're the mediator between the school board and the students.

9. You just got a call from an audition you did for a new TV series pilot. They want you to audition one more time right now, but you have 10 minutes before your English class where you have a huge test! You

- a. Forget about English class! This is a chance of a lifetime!
- b. run to the teacher and ask to take the test NOW so that you can hurry to the audition! You'll skip the other classes, though, because you don't have any other projects or tests.
- c. ask your friends about what you should do.
- d. finish that school day. School always comes first! After school, you'll ask the TV show people if they still want you.
- e. find your teacher and suavely talk him into letting take the test at a later time.

10. You go to Universal Studios Orlando with your school and get lost! You

- a. have even more fun! You get to do exactly what you want, when you want without waiting. In fact, you turn off your phone, just in case they try to reach you.
- b. don't care. You go ahead with all of the rides that you wanted to go on. If you see them before the end of the day, you'll stick with them. There's no use worrying and not having fun.
- c. go ballistic! Where is everyone? You remember that you have a phone, call them, and become reunited.
- d. take the opportunity. You go through all of the rides you know you would not be able to ride in such a big group, and look for them afterwards.
- e. You go directly to "lost and found" and make them announce that you have lost your party. You relax until your classmates have come to fetch you.

11. All of the adults has been abducted by aliens. You

- a. enjoy your freedom and go crazy! You are free from the dominant rule of adults!
- b. make the best of it. You earn money by doing different jobs that parents normally do... reading bedtime stories, cooking dinner, etc.
- c. You join the "Parents Rescue Team" to try to get your parents back!
- d. After some calculations, you realize how much you need your parents for food, shelter, allowance, and hugs. You then set out to make a plan for the "Parents Rescue Team" with the materials that you have.
- e. are the first to stand up with a loudspeaker to speak. You give comfort to the scared. You give direction to the lost. You make sure that everybody are motivated and productive.
